DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to the communication 7/02/2007. Claims 1 – 36 are currently pending.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1 – 36 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 – 14 of U.S. Patent No. 6,788,676. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant case, all elements of claims 1 – 36 correspond to the claims of 1 – 14 of the patent claims, except in the instant claims the element, “comparing said first and second source information and dropping message if comparing first source and second source information do not indicate the same location” is referred in the patent claims as “the IMS (IP multimedia subsystem) is able to route subsequent SIP signaling (message) through the IMS proxy (P). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to recognize that providing packet filtering by comparing the first and second source information is equivalent to having an IMS proxy server routing the messages that are registered with the proxy through P-CSCF) filtering”. ””. Patent claims recite, “A method ...requests for internet protocol communications across a packet switched communication network” and “wherein the predetermined protocol is session initiation protocol” which encompasses the instant application claims, “A method comprising receiving a message from a terminal device connected to a packet data network” and “wherein said message is a session initiation protocol message”. Thus patent claims anticipate the instant claims.

Claims of the instant application are anticipated by patent claims in that the patent claims contains all the limitations of the instant application. Claims of the instant application therefore is not patentably distinct from the earlier patent claims and as such are unpatentable for obvious-type double patenting (In re Goodman (CAFC) 29 USPQ2d 2010 (12/3/1993)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 1 – 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Independent claims recite, “providing secure access to said packet data network based on said protection processing". Even though instant specification discloses "secure network access can be provided without using additional fields in the messages ..." [see Summary, paragraph 0014], details of providing such secure (network) access has not been disclosed in the details description.

Dependent claims are rejected at least by the virtue of their dependency on these independent claims.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1, 2, 13 and 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Independent claims recite, "deriving a second source information" and does not clearly point out where this second source information is derived from.

Examiner suggests moving limitation of Claim 3, "wherein said second source information derived from a packet data unit configured to convey said message or from a security association set up between said terminal device and said packet data network", to Claim 1 and similarly amend other independent claims.

Dependent Claims 4 – 9, 15 – 21 and 23 – 28 are rejected at least by the virtue of their dependency on these independent claims.

Claim Objections

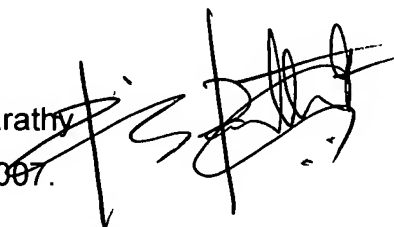

5. Claims 8 and 9 are duplicate claims depending on Claim 1 and either claim 8 or claim 9 must be cancelled. Examiner rejects both the claims under the same prior art reasoning.
